er

what.

I also spoke with X about it. He stated that he knew
not what they did, but
that one was on the
"Island where Brin
had her house." I will need to ask Brin
where this is.

I happened to be in the area of Yew, and
dropped in on Shela at
the Outpost. I
mentioned the rune to
her, and she took me to see Lord Ghaleon. I
knew of him by
reputation. he is
reputed to work with the Followers of Armageddon. If
anyone other than Shela took me to him, I would have been concerned. Even so, I
plan to take it up with
her. At any rate he was very interested in the rune and gated us
to Ocllo. I showed it to
him. He explained
that it represented the letter "O". It was a magical wrighting, as if someone used pure
magic as ink. he has
no idea why it was there. It could be to ward something, or to be a reminder. I
mentioned that it had
appeared in the last
few months and he

became even more
intrested. In the course of our
conversation, he cast
several spells at it,
includeing Unlock
Magic, Dispel Field,
Recall,and Reveal. I
now realy need to find
out where that other Rune X mentioned is.

I have conducted a
search of recent new articles, trying to find something that may be
related to the rune.
The closest I could find is an article
related to the capture
of an FOA leader.
The leader was
captured on word
from a mage maned Onjaan. Given the data in the article, I
doubt that he has the power to make the
rune, and the cature
took place in Shame.

Coresponding with X
via notes left in the tower, I was able to
question him on the rune. It seems that we no longer have any runes marked for the
island, but he knows
which island it was
and is willing to take me there in his ship.
We will try to make
the trip in two days
time. It has also occured to me that
Ghalron and I may
